LEARN GROW BE RADIO

This is a free e-book for those who are stepping up to the leading edge of Spiritual Growth.

It is a glad gift of spirit in Gratitude for my blessings. All the material contained herein is copyrighted and not to be altered or sold. You are welcome to distribute this book in this pdf format only. You are welcome to offer this e-book on your websites as long as it is given freely.

God has no secrets.

He does not lead you through a world of misery, waiting to tell you, at the journey's end, why he did this to you.

A Course In Miracles

If you are reading this, you are ready.

This is a gift of Love from all the Light of Heaven within us. You may not know this yet, but you will. You are ready. You are here, not just for yourself, but for all of humanity and the future of medicine, science and spiritual growth. Wait until you see what you/we are truly capable of! I welcome you to the next thing.

We know now that we have whole power to heal ourselves, through the healing of the mind. We have whole knowledge. It is our blessed inheritance. It was never taken from us. It was a forever gift from Unconditional Love. We hid it from ourselves. For most, this power and knowledge lies deeply dormant, but the keys to the Gates of Eden are kept safely in our hearts. All we need do is open our hearts and retrieve them. As you do this, you will heal. It isn't really a miracle. It is your natural state of Being waiting for your full awareness.

There is nothing hidden in truth. The Veil is an illusion. You have within you all you need in order to wipe out your pain, illness and disease, on all levels. No one else but you can do this. We were not created to suffer and die, or live by Laws that hold us painfully accountable in some Cosmic 3D Courtroom. We were created to have unlimited Everlasting Life, full of endless Joy.

There are those who can help you with human physical symptoms and help support you in your journey to wellness, but the root of all pain, illness and disease is fear. A lack of the awareness of Love's presence within. Without Self Awareness, we cannot heal our spirit, our minds, and therefore our bodies. The path to Self Awareness is a long one. We have buried ourselves under the rubble of confusion for ions.

We know from reading the vital work of Louise Hay, Doreen Virtue, Marianne Williamson and Debbie Ford, how miracles can transform us by simply changing our thoughts. You do not need your pain and illness. Partnered with Love, we can undo the errors in our thinking that led to a sick body. The purpose of this project is to assist you in healing on all levels. Yes, the mind is the base camp. But, the Angels are jumping up and down with joyful anticipation, waiting to help you with your back pain.

They aren't saying, "Stupid cow! She'll have to experience the fat effect, before she gets it!" Imagine instead that the Angels understand the vibe we're in, and judge it not. They hold the truth of us, and that truth can create NOTHING but Love. That would mean all the Light of Eden is poised for your healing journey. If this doesn't feel right to you, then you might move on to something else now.

I honor and respect the great works of our Physicians and Nurses. I honor the medical profession as a whole and have often benefited from the skill and talent of a caring professional. In fact, I would go as far as to say that I wouldn't be writing this if it weren't for the skilled care that doctors and nurses have shown for me and my family. I sincerely encourage you to keep your heart and mind open with regard to the medical profession, even as we discover new and bold ways to live in the years to come. Doctors and Nurses will continue to provide all of us with critical care and for this I am deeply and humbly grateful.

If you are led to ingest manufactured substances such as anti-depressants and blood thinners, please think twice before refusing it. We don't yet know what all things are for, and why we are led in certain directions. The Angels work very closely with many Doctors and Nurses. Please be mindful of this. It is my hope that you will find a Physician who understands, or is willing to understand the basic principals here, and in the work you will be doing. They don't have to have an office full of Angel statues, but if they are loving, caring, open humans, they can help you, especially if you surrender them and their work with you to Divine Light.

*What I aim to do with this project is to introduce you to a an amazing tool that will assist you in taking your mental, emotional, physical and spiritual health deep into your own hands, in partnership with the Highest Divine Realm of Love. The pendulum is an extraordinary spiritual tool. It is a phone line to the Realm of Divine Love. It's a toll free call and you will never get a busy signal, unless you willed it. The pendulum will temporarily act as a bridge for you, between 3D (ego) and the Illumined Essence known as God; your Highest Self. Eventually, you will no longer need tools to Know Your Self.*

At this time, I would like to speak about the other side to using the pendulum. When you use the pendency to make a connection to energy, of any kind, you do run the pesty risk of making contact with lower level entities flitting about in nowhere land, and other cheap dive bars. Many of these spirit beings are bored stiff. They can smell an easy target a mile away. Please don't let this alarm you. It happens more when you are first starting out using this tool. Understand here and now, that no entity can hurt you, unless you detach from your heart center and become afraid.

Then, you could create the very thing you are most afraid of. Over time, you will become more proficient, and more spiritually evolved, and these things will be less of a problem. The pendulum looks quite simple in structure, and doesn't appear to have any power in and of itself. Fact is, this is one of the most powerful tools on the planet, and when put in the right hands, for the right reasons, it can help bring forth miraculous Healing and Guidance.

My take on non-physical, unkind beings is that they are nothing more than unhealed shadows of a low level consciousness we all temporarily share as human beings. These energies are not outside your mind. It is the 3D mind that created these fragments of fear and loathing. You have the power to uncreate them in your own field of Vision if you want to. Elevate yourself. The vibration of Love is natural protection from unloving energies, in the form of unconditional allowing and certainty of one's true Identity. Know Yourself, and you are free. All you need is the willingness to Know Love.

The ego mind sees you reading this e-book. It doesn't like it. It rather likes to see you suffer and twist about in the ethers of self hatred. It likes the smell you omit when you are dying. It definitely doesn't like the idea of you owning your Divine Power. That's ok. Give the poor thing a hug, a cuppa joe and the Sunday comics. Be on your way.

In my early dowsing days, I received a message about the size of my behind. It was most unwelcome. I initially responded with sadness. I was a newbie dangit. Then, I quickly gathered my Self and called the Angels forth. The ones that think my behind is perfect, and asked them to clear the air. And that was that. The Angels communicated to me that I could surrender all uninvited energies into the Vortex Of Light. Of course, it would be up to the energies present to take up the offer, but rest assured; these thought forms are moved out of your field, pronto.

Please remember: It is not helpful to judge such energies negatively. What is not Love is fear and nothing else. Astral Pranks are common. They happen all the time. People just aren't paying attention. ☺ Essentially, it is the Collective Mind calling for help and you just happen to be on the line. Your mission, should you choose to accept it, is to be a Divine Instrument of Compassion. Simply Bless it, send Love, and Surrender it. This heart vibe will overcome ANY fear present, naturally, and only good can come of it. If you become fearful, or outraged, immediately recite your favorite High Light Mantra-over and over - for a few times. That should do it. ☺ Remember to breathe. Conscious, surrendered Breath is Light. There is nothing to fear but fear itself. Try not to get spooked if you happen to have a frustrating experience. That would feed into the ethers of self-doubt and place you squarely in, "I don't trust Divine Love." At that point, it will be almost impossible to access Divine Love using the pendulum. Perhaps it would be a good time to use only prayer until you are feeling stronger. Prayer will work in all cases.

Here's a little ditty about an Astral Prank that caused me to learn a HUGE LESSON regarding use of the pendulum. I was the victim of a rude, albeit harmless, practical joke. It caused me to hurl my pendulum in the bay across the street. I have included this fabulous story in this book for your viewing pleasure. I have no issues with it anymore. I have come a long way since then. But, it didn't happen because I chose to appease my poor fearful ego who was dreading my salvation.

I don't use the pendulum as a daily crutch. This is easy to do. Once you have practiced with the pendulum, you will understand why. My own intuition has significantly strengthened due to usage of this Divine instrument. More and more, I am able to hear, or know the answers before receiving that answer through my pendulum. I credit my work with Divine energy through the pendulum for this gift. Having said that, the very specific information that one can receive from Divine Light is not something that any Psychic can provide you with. Tool-less intuition is ideal, but we have a long way to go on that front, if we are going to work with serious physical illness and growth using both spiritual and physical methods. While I'm here, let me say that no one should come to depend on the pendency for all things. Some things require professional medical attention. A yearly physical is not a bad idea either. The good thing about The Eden Gate project is that it does not require medical insurance.

The very detailed information that can potentially flow through the pendulum (another extension of your Highest Self/God) can be quite profound and even life saving. There is nothing like this tool available to mankind presently.

There is nothing mysterious about the pendulum. We were always meant to hear and experience our High Self. Some people call our Highest Self their Holy Spirit. Whatever terminology you want to use is fine. My belief is that the Highest Self is the One Divine Mind. We are all One. We all share perfect Love equally. Some people believe in forms and that is fine. I paint my own canvass. It matters not what form you use. What does matter is that you believe in Love. Love is Love. There are no degrees of Love. Nor are there ANY conditions placed on Love. Love is perfect and knows no boundaries and no law.

All that it ever held or will ever hold is right here now.

The past takes nothing from it and the future will add no more.

Here then is everything.

The Gates To Eden Medical Team

God (the non-physical, perfect Creative Origin within all living things)

Jesus (the gift known as the example for all humankind)

Holy Spirit (the Voice for Love)

Mother Mary and Archangel Raphael (Angels of Physical Healing)

Archangel Michael (Angel of the One Mind)

Archangel Metatron (Angel Scribe for our journey through time and space and beyond)

Archangel Jophiel and Christine (Angels of Creative Initiatives and Project Captain)

Master Usui (the Illuminator of a Divine energy healing modality known as Reiki)

If you resonate, please call upon them and give them permission to surface/enter from within your mind, body and spirit for this journey. If you have other Source, Angels and Guides, please call them forth now. This process is heavily dependent on the Highest Light Realms assistance. I am willing to be a Witness and a Conduit. This Self Diagnosis Pendulum Project will always be a work in progress, publishing again as new information is integrated. Ongoing updates and new charts will be made available often, through my online group, The Pendulum Forum:

<http://health.groups.yahoo.com/group/THEPENDULUMFORUM/>

The Eden Gate is a Self Diagnosis tool. Notice I did not say the diagnosis of others. Although, there will be some among you who will go on to assist others in time, or may already be doing this. I encourage you to take this effort very seriously. If you understand the power of thought, and the power of diagnosis, you will know where I'm coming from. If you are a licensed Physician, consciously ready to partner with the Highest Light Realms for healing, then your contribution to humanity cannot be underestimated. This is a day and a cause for Great Celebration! For most people on the planet, a diagnosis is taken as gold. People buy it, point their attention to it, and thereby grow it. The effects can be devastating, depending on the spiritual mindset of the individual. Please begin with yourself and your immediate family. That work could take ions.

If you engage in diagnosing other's mental/emotional and physical ailments, without a skilled and true loving connection to the Divine Realm, for the right reasons, please understand that you will reap what you sow. This is not meant to scare anyone. It's the Law of Cause and Effect. When we recklessly operate within the confines of this 3D hologram, we are susceptible to it's laws. When we pierce the Veil to the Highest Light Realms, these laws can be transcended. Marianne Williamson, my favorite spiritual teacher says, "In a moment of Grace, all Karma is burned." It's true.

A little about Laws. These are often defined as rules dictating the end (good) and function of everything in the Universe. Many people place all their faith and trust in the Laws. It feels good to have Clarity. Some insist on reality in a box. I share Dave's view. Natural Law is an absolutist view. Moral Absolutism = the view that (a) there is an objective (independently existing) standard of moral truth, and/or (b) certain actions are always right or wrong. You've heard the phrase, "Cosmic Justice". It is my core belief that Laws beg judgments in order to exist. That doesn't jive with my God is Love view. So, filing that under- "Whatever". Having said that, I will add that until one is truly dedicated to align, consistently, with Light beyond the Veil (physical realm), you will experience the Effect of Cause at every turn. The Box feels real. But, please know that a loving God does not Will painful effects. A Source that knows only Love does not know judgment, in any form, and therefore does not create or support the concept of Cosmic Justice. You are free to believe otherwise.

If you feel a calling to help others with this project, by all means, work in that direction. When you are ready to venture out to help others, you will know it to your core. I would ask that you spend considerable time on yourself first. You will need and want lots of practice with the charts, and with your Spiritual connections. You will need confidence, enormous trust in yourself and your Divine Light Guides, and you will need long patience. You will want to see for yourself how all of this works, and IF it works. That is not to say that the unhealed cannot be CO-healers. To the contrary. I am far from being healed of all that ails me, and I am here assisting you, by the Grace of God.

The most important thing for you to understand before you light your first candle and work with your first chart is this: If you fail to act on the information given you, due to doubt and fear, this is going to be a very frustrating chapter in your life. That's not due to the limited time and energy of Angels. It's due to self-sabotage with roots in guilt, shame, sorrow, fear, rage, and on it goes. If you are going to attempt this work, I will ask you to reject the false self as often as possible. You are Light. Nothing you have ever thought, done, or said has stolen your true identity. We have been in error as to what we are, and how things work. Now, it won't always be possible to reject the false self. But, to the degree that you can rise above the riff raff thoughts, is the degree to which you will experience Miracles.

In some cases, you may not act due to a lack of funds for certain items you have been guided to purchase. This is where it gets interesting. We can all relate to this challenge. If you find yourself here, it is not by accident. ☺ There is a reason for it. It has everything to do with why you are ill. Understand that nothing is impossible. If you find yourself in that spot, and already feel beaten, stop for a little while, grab yesterday's tea bag and read Wayne Dyer's book, "The Power Of Intention". Then, pick up the book, "Ask and It Is Given" by Abraham, through Esther Hicks.

You can find these at your Library, or buy a used copy on Amazon, or you can join my forum and ask if someone would be so kind as to lend you a copy. Where there is a Will, there is a way. One of my favorite ways to attract what I need is to immediately become of service to someone or something. Or, give something away that I treasure. Or, pray for the grass. If you can find even a nano-second to rise above your shame, you will be shown that your shame is impossible. The last thing you want to do is sit there and whine about your circumstances, yes?

Read these marvelous works, then decide whether or not you can get the items you need. Ask for the things you need, by the very Beings that are guiding you. Then, know it is on the way. You do not need to stop the presses while you wait. Do the things you CAN do, and trust in your Self that Divine Timing is always at work for your highest good. My pendulum book was suppose to be written over a year ago. Then something else was born within me.

You are embarking on a bold new adventure, where very few have gone before. You are an early pioneer. Bless you. Together, with the Divine Light Realm, we will pave the way for all that come behind us. Chances are real good you set this appointment for yourself, and the time is upon us.

It could take ions for people to become aware of what they are in truth, but we must begin now. Even if these pages lay and gather dust for 400 years, I know that the day will come when they will be used by many. We are seed.

My foundational belief system is found in a sacred text known as A Course In Miracles. It is not for everyone, but it's worth a look see if you feel lost in the forest of confusion with no compass. You can obtain a full free copy of this rather large book- online. See the links at the end of this book. I also read other sacred texts and take what resonates. I have a foundation, but I am still wide open. I hope.

The path in the direction of unconditional Love is one of great challenge. But, this project will not finally deliver your Right Mind to you. Only you can do that as you surrender more and more of your ego mind to your Highest Self/God. This project is going to help you in numerous ways, but the ultimate willingness to be Love is required for the journey to awareness of perfect health and well being.

The pendulum is only one tool, and not everyone will resonate with using it . The reasons I love working with a pendulum are as follows:

- 1 It has strengthened my sensitivity to energy.
- 2 It has been the miraculous bridge to the Divine Realm.
- 3 I can physically see energy working.
- 4 It gives me another way to work with crystals.
- 5 It provides me the blessing to read for others.
- 6 I receive the most beautiful and loving messages from the Highest Light Realm
- 7 I speak to my mother and father who have passed on.
- 8 I have been able to manage illness in our family much better.
- 9 I have been able to clear non-beneficial energy in my home, car and office.
- 10 Use it to positively influence violent weather and Mother Earth's call for healing.
- 11 It has strengthened my own intuitive senses in amazing ways.
- 12 It brought me here to you right now.

There are many other reasons I love working with a pendulum, to include for the benefit of my flower garden, my auto tune-ups, world hunger, and more. There is virtually nothing that cannot benefit from the Divine specifics that come through the Pendulum Bridge Line.

The pendulum is not God. The pendulum is a tool to help you make the connection. Prayer is the most important mode of communication. I am a huge fan of prayer. The pendulum is simply another tool to amplify your prayers and their results. It is the best way I know to open two way communication to God/Source/Creator. This includes the energy of the Archangels, Guardian Angels, High Light Guides, as well as appointed Ascended Masters closer in vibration the earth energy. You can choose who to speak with if you like. Simply place the call.

Most people like to do their pendency work in private. For obvious reasons. :smile: But, may I suggest that you consider an occasional outing with your pendulum. You never know who will be sitting across the Library desk from you, or the café table. I don't believe in chance meetings. You will happen across people for one of two reasons only. They will present themselves to you in order that you may further experience Love or fear for the purpose of Knowing Thyself. Love knows not fear. Start with that please. ☺

The primary modality I use in my healing work is called Reiki. I include an article here for your information. Reiki is, by far, the single most effective healing tool I have ever used. We call it Reiki, but for me personally, it is simply the laying on of loving hands in the name of Truth. It's not some funky wacked out cult thing. It's a very simple and beautiful reminder of what Jesus taught me. I encourage you to learn Reiki and use it for your personal healing journey. It will complement all the other things you are doing to help yourself. I have included some basic info here, but there is much more on The Pendulum Forum.

You will need a pendulum for this work. I would ask you to consider purchasing one from my online store. I can be found at www.pendulumsandmore.com . I have a large inventory, and also do custom work based on favorite crystals and stones. I would appreciate your consideration. If you are short on cash right this second, you can find a pendulum weight in the fishing tackle section of any store for less than $1.00. If you use a piece of yarn to hold it with, you are good to go.

You may discover that your pendulum doesn't move. For many, this will be the end of their pendulum project. For others, there will be patience and trust. There will be an open heart, open eyes, open ears and a sincere willingness to forge on despite the challenges. Not everyone comes to this method with a full set of skills. Trust me. ☺ It takes time. It took me several months of daily practice to clear the air of doubt and frustration. If you want it, it will happen. The tips included here will speak more to this issue. On the other hand, there will be some of you that simply don't care for it. It doesn't resonate, and you choose to move on to something else.

I have also included some of my own charts in this book. There are likely hundreds more to come. ☺ I don't want to hold off publishing until I'm all done. Hopefully, more people will send me charts I can integrate into this book, as I will be publishing updates regularly. If you have anything at all that is relevant to this process, please be so kind as to share it with me/us, for the purpose of including it in this project down the road. There is no financial compensation obviously, but ask for what you need, if anything, and it is given.

And there is no part of the journey that seems more hopeless and futile than standing where the road branches, and not deciding which way to go.

How/Why Does the Pendulum Work?

I don't claim to know jack. ☺

I have some ideas about how this stuff might work, but I certainly don't clinch my fists around it. There is way too much we don't know. I have a feeling there is much more to just about everything we believe, than we have explanations for. But, let's give it a Draft copy. I'm game.

Our mind works much like a radio or television receiver and transmitter. As such, we are able to tune in to various frequencies of thought throughout the MultiVerse. To the degree we are energetically aligned with Love, is the degree to which we can tap into the Highest Light Consciousness where all knowledge exists. There is a part of every human mind that is aligned with lower energy forms by virtue of our choice to be here in this third dimension. That is because every human has an ego. Our ego vibe determines our ability to make connection to any higher light source of information using the pendulum. It is based on our personal beliefs. Fear, guilt and shame are the biggest obstacles to Self realization. Of course, no one needs a pendulum to access Source. But, it is rare for humans to receive specific information using tool-less intuition. Some call the work I do, Intuition Technology. I think that sums it up well. Ideally, we will all come to a point where tools are useless. For now, they are blessings from Source.

If you are going to use the pendulum for High Light Guidance and Healing, you will need to open your heart fully and allow for deep transformation over time. You need nothing but willingness. No one is keeping score! Transformation is often a slow unfolding process. Having said that, the Light is capable of showing you quick glimpses of High Light along your path, and will do this as you lift your feet to take steps. You will recognize this light when you sense it, as it is what you are. It will be remarkable and you will desire to reach for it often. The ego, as I said earlier, will fight you every step of the way. It wishes to live and breathe in the front of your awareness. Part of your work using the pendulum will be to take command of your ego with the help of your Highest Self/God.

You need not hate the ego, ignore it, or reject it. You are welcome to love all parts of yourself, Each time you choose to release your fears in favor of a loving response to life the ego's power will lessen. This takes time and conscious practice.

A person who chooses to align with Light consistently will enjoy the energetic capacity to tune into High Light energy. It isn't a given. It is simply potential. There are other factors. We will discuss them here as we go along.

But, the biggest obstacle to knowledge is our resistance to Self-Love. It is important to understand that energy is constantly changing in relation to our thoughts. Your vibe on Monday could be different than your vibe on Thursday. Daily spiritual work is key to consistent spiritual dowsing. Please remember that just because Tuesday may have been a bad day, Wednesday is just around the corner and you will have a fresh opportunity to choose anew.

The physical MultiVerse is all energy. Some of this energy is beneficial and some is not. I choose to use the words beneficial and non-beneficial as a way to steer clear of emotional judgments that can and will effect the state of your being. You might here me make jokes about lower energy vibes, as a way to help keep things lite around here. However, it is not in our best interest to seriously judge these things. Surrender and release in times of confusion will help.

In order to survive in the physical MultiVerse, there was a mechanism created to help sense various energies, in order that humans, plants, animals, etc., could protect themselves. Who/What created the mechanism is still up for debate. My belief is that fear itself created this mechanism. Love has no fear, and thus no need for mechanisms to protect against perceived danger.

As you begin to see the truth of what you are, the Veil is made obvious for what it is. The ability to sense the various energies is fundamental to life on earth, and beyond I suspect, beginning with the plant kingdom. Plants shrink away from people who radiate non-beneficial energy, as shown in Clive Backster's experiments. Of course it has been shown that animals sense when danger is near. Humans will always try to deflect non-beneficial sensation of any kind, in a host of ways. All living organisms seem to possess a built in antenna to help perceive beneficial and non beneficial energies. Our over identification with the intellectual aspect of our consciousness often restricts the sensitivity we need to go deeper into the full awareness of all things. Our five senses are in fact limiting our experience of the MultiVerse.

The human nervous system is the communication tool for the body, mind and some levels of spirit. The possibilities are infinite. Alfred Korzybski defines life as the amount of energy any given nervous system contains. The nervous system appears to function like a Super Cosmic Computer with endless storage capacity, and software out the whazoo. Passwords are given to all, but not everyone understands this. Imagine a password for each level of spiritual development, if you will. Let's say you are vibing at a level 3 heart space. You will then be able to access level 3 information. If you are vibing at level two, you cannot access level 6 information. It's not that the information is being kept from you by God, or anything else. You are the one who decides your own heart space.

If you have come to this dimension to paint great works of art, or compose great music masterpieces, or write amazing novels, and other such things, you will find your vibe jumping way past what you thought possible. Even the ordinary mother with a disabled child will find higher vibe avenues in the dedication to be the Truth, the Light and The Way for that child. Intention is everything in the world of energy and communication with the Light Realms.

An experienced dowser also senses energy. In medical radiesthesia, the Physician is measuring the energetic interaction of a given force field with his/her own nervous system. Some use this to diagnose and treat accordingly. Some simply observe the energy, continue along and allow for Divine Will to be the Physician.

The pendulum itself does not provide answers to your questions. Therefore, please be cautious about becoming overly attached to a fave pendy. It is your heart and mind, communicating through your nervous system with Light from the Divine Realm which gives you signals. The pendulum amplifies and interprets the signals through codes set up between your conscious and sub-conscious mind.

You can use anything to pendul with: A pencil, a car key, or a ball on a string will do the trick. Many, like me, use crystals and stones for the most part. Just as there are many different kinds of automobiles with different colors, sizes, shapes and prices, your ability to drive a car is not affected. Emotionally, we may be drawn to red or blue, and we may resonate with the energies of quartz crystal, or we might love a piece of fine art, and this is fine. There is nothing wrong with enjoyment as long as we don't lose sight of the power behind the instrument. High Light communicates with us through symbols, ideas, and dreams. Our conscious mind translates these communications through our own personal lens.

Our interpretations are based on and influenced by many things, to include: our personal life experience, our immediate physical environment, our education, our culture, the unseen energies of those around us, and more.

Lastly, please understand that it is not necessary to have objects or people present to do Light work for them. The subject could be many miles away, or even passed on from the earth plane.

PURCHASING YOUR PENDULUM

Few spiritual dowsers credit a specific pendulum with obtaining correct answers. Please understand that you can have a hundred pendies, and blame them, or credit them all you want, but it is a monumental mistake to make if you are going to enjoy High Light penduling. Your mind is the tool.

The Light will overcome any stone, any chain, and bead, any chart, any table, any lamp, any eyeglass, any copper bracelet, any sage, any thing. This you can trust. It will do so as you dedicate to be a light in the world. There is a line in the sand, called the Veil. Cross it and there is no law that can imprison you. Opt to work in the confines of the Hologram, and you will be at the mercy of so called natural laws.

Do stones have different properties and are they useful to any degree? Yes. But they do not rule your mind. They can be very helpful, if you find beneficial resonance. Many people do. Certainly you should experiment with different sizes, shapes, weights and stones. My best work is done with a dense plastic pendy on a piece of dirty yarn. I know people that pendul for high light using a needle and thread. I have penduled using a pen on a string. I would not hesitate to put a banana on a jump rope if I needed to, and go forth in complete confidence. If the pendulum you are using is not responding, give it away with a blessing of love, and get another one. This act is not useless. Remember to prepare for your sessions, and follow the guidelines in this book. Sometimes a clean slate helps.

I am including some resource information on crystals at the end of this book. There are some beautiful and brilliant minds out there who have free online forums focused on crystals and healing. You might benefit from making contact.

DEDICATING YOUR PENDULUM

It is suggested that you dedicate your pendulum as the first order of business. You want to surround your healing tools in the highest love and light. The same way we bless food and drink, we bless our tools. Prayer is the strongest, most effective tool we have as humans to effect all things. It is now scientifically proven that blessing a glass of water before drinking it raises the energetic vibration of the water, removing non beneficial energies. Why would we not take full advantage of this gift?

Prayer was never meant to be complicated, meant only for the creative writers of the world. Prayer can be silent alignment. No need to make things difficult. Know what you want, ask for it, release the need to monitor progress, and let go. The strength of any prayer lies in the faith that it is answered immediately.

I never use my pendulum for High Light Guidance without prayer first. I hold the pendy in my hands and make my request for High Light Guardianship over the session. I affirm that I am Light, and a clear, perfect and open channel for Divine Light communication. To the degree that I believe I am in fact those things, is the degree to which I will experience it. If I doubt, I interfere with the blessing to the exact degree I doubt.

Many people rinse their pendies in cool water before and after usage. Some Reiki them for the same benefit. Either or both practices are useful. There are some that do not believe any of that is necessary. Whatever floats your boat. You decide.

I have written a pendulum dedication below. Try using this, or you version of it, to dedicate your tool before you program it in any way. Feel free to add your own words.

“I Am that I Am. I am Light. I am Love. I call upon Source Light to use this pendulum according to Divine Will for the highest good. I appreciate this gift. I dedicate this gift to the Light. I shall use this gift for only good for me and all things. My intent is to connect with the Divine within me in a deeper way. I release all fear, guilt, shame and doubt. I ask that Divine Love please use this tool, and any other deemed appropriate for me, that I may hear and grow and learn. I surrender all unloving thought forms into the Light. I am pure spirit dedicated to Divine Love. It is with all my love, on all levels, that I dedicate this miraculous tool for the highest good. Thank You and so it is.Amen”

PROGRAMMING YES/NO PENDULUM LANGUAGE

It is my belief that our Highest Self is the God Head. When you ask permission, you are really asking yourself. When you prepare to program this High Light Tool, you need not ask the Light to show you their preferred swings, but you can if you like.

If you are in sync with the idea outlined above, you may feel perfectly comfortable telling the pendy how to move in order to translate the information you are receiving.

First, decide which hand you want to hold the pendy with. Maybe both will work just fine. I use my dominant hand. Many use their non- dominant hand. Some use both. You will find that the pendulum movements are going to be opposite when you change hands. You can read up on the topic of Polarity to gain a better understanding for why this occurs.

Hold your pendy over the center of your palm. If it begins to move, just observe for a few moments. Make a mental note. If it is moving north to south on your palm, you might affirm that this means YES. If it is moving in a clockwise motion, you might affirm that THIS means YES. These are common movements to represent yes answers.

Therefore, I believe it is safe to assume the Light is choosing for you, for whatever reason. However, if the pendy is moving east to east or counter clockwise, I would stop the pendy and begin your programming. These are not common representations for YES answers. Collective agreement is very powerful.

If the pendy is not moving, please make your pendy swing gently north to south across your palm as you affirm that you want this movement to represent a YES answer. Now, stop the pendy in the center of your palm. Make the pendy move east to west while you affirm that this movement represents a NO answer. After you have completed these two commands, ask the Light to show you a yes answer. Just relax and be patient. It could take a minute as you are warming up. If you have asked to be shown the YES answer, it should be moving north to south. If you have asked to see the NO answer, it should be moving east to west. The swing may be strong, or light. You can also use the movements of clockwise for yes, and counter clockwise for no. Some pendulists teach additional commands like “Don’t Know”, “Not Certain”, “None of your business!”, etc.. I find these to be unnecessary. But, you might like to program them using diagonal movements.

The most important part of programming is centering yourself in a relaxed state of being. Don’t rush things. You may have success right away. Or, you may get nothing. It is critical that you do not judge anything as negative. It may not be the right time to do this. Lack of movement DOES NOT mean you are Satan. We do not know all things. Speculating on something we cannot see or understand is often counter productive.

Be certain any answer to a problem the Holy Spirit solves will always be one in which no one loses. And this must be true because he asks no sacrifice of anyone.

MAY I? CAN I? SHOULD I?

Opinions differ greatly on the issue of asking permission to dowse for self and/or others. There is a body of thought that teaches permissions are critical. There is another body of thought that teaches it is not necessary. You will make up your own mind. As for me, I do not generally dowse for information on others without their formal request, unless it is a medical emergency or they are immediate family. In the latter case, I direct my question to the attention of that person's Highest Self. It is up to them to engage or not.

I believe parents always have permission to ask for loving guidance from Source on behalf of a child, or spouse. It is important to ask from a loving heart. If you are asking from a place of fear, anger, etc., you are infringing on their privacy and free will and these things backfire. Intent is always key. Your dowsing experience will always reflect your heart space.

If you wish to ask permission, please do so. Keep in mind that you will receive NO answers, and it may not be from the Highest Light Source.

There are energies that like to play games with you. As you become proficient, you will get a feeling about these answers. If your intent is pure going in, you will have less problems. If you are receiving a NO answer often when asking for permission, I would challenge it, on the right occasion.

All you need to do is but to wish that Heaven be given you instead of hell, and every bolt and barrier that seems to hold the door securely barred and locked will merely fall away and disappear.

ACIM

There may come a point where you might try ignoring the NO answer and forging ahead, IF you are certain of your loving intent.

When I first started learning the pendulum I seemed to be stuck when asking permissions. I kept getting a NO answer. I became frustrated. I called my sister who had far more experience with these matters. She gladly gave me a mini lecture on owning my power and forgetting the permissions. It was bold advice from one of my hero's. I was a little uncomfortable with it quite honestly, but decided to proceed in that direction.

I went back to my pendulum and told whoever was listening that I wasn't taking NO for an answer! I might have cursed. I called upon the Light from the depth of my soul, and the light illuminated. The NO's never came again. After a while, I stopped asking. It was wise choice for me. I understand a lot more now.

You will find your own way through personal usage.

USING AN ABC CHART

An ABC chart will allow you to get specific messages from your Highest Self. These messages will spell out on your chart, using the letters printed in the form of a circle. This is not easy work. It takes a lot of practice and patience, but anyone can do it if they really want to. I use the ABC chart most often.

You will find a generic ABC chart in the Charts Chapter. I would print it out in a larger size and put it in a plastic cover. I find that enlarging a chart to be as big as an 8x11 piece of paper is very helpful. If you like, you can put your charts in a large binder. You might want to take a look at it now to get a sense of it before reading on. It can be found on page.....

After your sincere session preparations, hold the pendulum over the center dot in the ABC CHART. The pendulum will often begin swinging on it's own from there. Just let it swing until you are ready to focus. Relax. Notice any tension in your hand, fingers or anywhere else in your body. Let it all go.

If this is the first time using the chart, express to the light that you would like to use this chart for your highest good and with Light's blessing. Express that you surrender the process to your Highest Self.

Now ask a question that requires more than a yes or no answer. I like to ask, "Do you have a message for me today?" Be patient. If it does not move, do not react negatively. Ask for Angelic assistance. If it still doesn't move after a few minutes, ask a question related only to your own spiritual development. If it still does not respond, ask a question that requires only a yes or no answer. If it still does not respond, sit back and work with only the palm of your hand to get a yes or no answer before going back to chart.

If it still does not move, that is ok. You can either keep trying, as long as you are not becoming negatively affected, or you can put it down. I suggest you ask the following: "Is there any energy present that is not here for my highest good?" If the answer is yes, you have interference. In all cases. ☺ Tell the energy that you are blessing it with compassion for all living things, and sending it now into the light and ask the Angels to take command of the energy.

Now, begin the process again. If the answer is no, then you are likely tired or frustrated and need a break. It may be both.

Before you put your pendy away, tell your Highest Self that you are not giving up. You are only taking a break. Let the MultiVerse know that you will be back to try again. This affirmation has power in it.

Very few people pick up the pendulum and start talking to God on day one. God is not choosy about who he/she talks to. She wants to talk to all of us, and waits for the call. He will talk to us about our sons and daughters, cancer and ball games. God is a regular guy. Has a great sense of humor, and to the point. Very relaxed and incredibly patient. Her energy is soothing and endearing. That's my experience of God, and it's not what I expected. Your experience may be different. Don't be afraid to open to your own perceptions.

If it is moving...

If it is moving, try to take small breaks and write things down that you are getting. I stop and write down two or three sentences at a time. I always picks up where I left off. Some people tape record their sessions. This is a good idea. I've just gotten use to doing it a certain way. Do what feels good to you. It is very important that you keep a log of ALL communications. You will want to come back to earlier communications.

You may be getting nothing but jibberish in the beginning. I did too. It takes practice. It took me several weeks of daily use to start getting fluid messages. You will be so glad you were patient and disciplined.

Try not to get too anxious during your session. You will have a million questions once you get going. You will be like a kid in a candy store. It will be very exciting. Go slow. Ask one question at time, and allow the Light time to answer you completely. Do not second guess what the energy is going to spell out. This is a mistake many make.

Let it finish. As you get better at doing this, it gets harder to wait for the pendy to finish sentences. Be mindful. It is always better to wait. I have been surprised many times.

Try not to do too much in one sitting. Your back and neck will hurt if you overdo it. Always offer a prayer of thanks for the session and messages.

The more you use the ABC chart to connect with Source wisdom, the more proficient you will become. If you only use it once every month, it will take longer to get the hang of it. The ABC chart is a great tool for teaching you to sense energies.

There is often more than one energy present for my readings. They take turns talking. I rarely need to ask who is talking, once we get past the initial identifications. I can tell by the sensations going from one energy to another. The energy I know as God is slower and sure and like velvet as it moves. The energy of Jesus is a bit faster and a wider swing, but the same velvety feel. Archangel Raphael, who is my primary guide, has a very impersonal feel to it. But, loving and direct. He's a no nonsense kind of guy. Like most doctors I suppose. For me, non beneficial energies have wider, faster, more anxious swings. Fairly distinct in general. I have read other people's descriptions of energies, and they don't necessarily match up with mine. That's ok. Point being, It's all good. God is not in a box.

FORMULATING YOUR QUESTIONS

Before I get too deep into this, I wish to say that High Light can and does overcome poorly phrased questions posed by tired or beginning pendulists. High Light is not stupid. They know what you are wanting to know. However, as I outlined before, contact with this highest light vibration requires loving alignment through your own heart and mind. With this alignment, you are not held strictly accountable for well formulated questions. Your thought patterns are read very easily. Of course, you are free to believe otherwise.

There is a wide variety of energies in the MultiVerse. Many believe there is a central intelligence system that all of life is governed by. Whether or not this system is God or Source itself, or the operating system created to apply natural law automatically is still being investigated. Fact is, we really do not know the truth of all things. We are fairly certain that there are natural laws that govern the physical Universe. They are impersonal. If you are tapping only the intelligence system, and not Highest Light Source, you may be faced with the challenge of formulating specific questions that only a computer like energy can answer.

In formulating questions to the mainframe, please be as specific as possible. Remember the 5 W's. Who, What, Where, When and Why? If you want an answer start here. I would suggest writing your questions down on paper. Especially if you are new to using the pendulum. You can always ask if the question is understood. If you come to this with little patience, you won't last long.

It is very important to detach from any and all emotion about the questions and the answers. You can indeed effect the swing of the pendency with emotion. People often tell themselves what they want to hear. Use the phrase, "I wonder what the answer is?" Or, consciously affirm that you are releasing and detaching and want only the truth. Draw a deeper breath and let go. This too takes practice. If you feel too attached emotionally, come back to it later after you have had some time in prayer.

Your health is a result of your desire to see your brother with no blood upon his hands.

ACIM

Don't ask questions that serve no loving purpose if you want to stay free of non-beneficial interference. Questions rooted in unloving thoughts will invite unloving answers. One of my first questions elicited "Bite Me" by some unseen energy. Lesson learned.

PENDULUM TESTS

This is an area of great debate. Some will tell you that you should test your pendulum /intuition regularly as a way to make sure you are on track. Others will tell you that testing is not only useless, but counter productive.

Here are my thoughts:

Testing sends a message. It says, "I want to prove that this thing works. I want to prove that I work." This might be alright for certain applications and under certain conditions. I have conducted many tests on my online pendulum forum. It is a large group. There is no consistency. Even the most spiritually evolved members get it wrong. Even with very specific questioning. There seems to be no rhyme or reason. I do keep in mind that testing as part of a group is likely more complex than testing on one's own. Solo testing has shown to produce more accurate results. However, wrong answers could persuade people to believe that their mind and their tool is unreliable, when this may not be at all accurate. This is not helpful. There appears to be a higher success rate on health related testing and water/map testing. Testing for the heck of it, or for game playing, is less accurate.

There are many things to consider.

Do you want God to answer your test question? An Angel? Ben Stiller's Highest Self? An Alien in another realm? Jack the Ripper? Maybe just the wide open collective consciousness? Who, exactly, are you asking? If you do not address this, you are opening up to a wide variety of energy. Even if you do ask the Highest Light Source, you do not always get to decide who/what answers just because we have asked and demanded. Of course, as you become more proficient, you will have more control over this.

A math teacher may require a different protocol for test taking than the history teacher. The art teacher doesn't even believe in tests, so asking her is useless. The PE teacher, on the other hand, has had a difficult childhood and wants tests to be the determination of everyone's worth. The questions, the processing, and the answers are always relative; asked, considered and answered through a personal lens, times however many energies are present.

So, who are we asking to bring forth the answers? You can ask God if you like, but if earthbound circus clowns answer you, how would you know? Non beneficial energies rarely announce themselves as such.

They'll just hang out long enough to watch you skirmish with frustration. Mistrust will often invite these energies, especially if your path is one of a spiritual nature. The seekers path is one of learning to trust.

Take testing for colors for example: There are many shades of red. Your definition of red may differ from mine. It may be different from the Universe's. And what we define as white here on earth may be silver somewhere else. I have learned that your truth and mine may be different. Add the other's truths, then add the Universe's and then add all the inhabitants in all dimensions.

I am not trying to be silly. These are questions we ask. There is a lot we do not know.

If you want to test your pendulum/intuition and it's accuracy, you can do this. I find it is better to ask this question when you are by yourself. Group testing is too inconsistent overall. There are going to be times when you might wish to test for accuracy. I sometimes do it at the end of an individual readings when I have the Angels on the line. Perhaps I misread something along the way. It happens.

Learning to sense subtle energies will be of great help to you along the way. You will feel when it's right. This takes practice and dedication.

If you feel drawn to test, do so. But, if you get inaccurate answers, don't worry. Don't place all your faith in testing. I know many excellent spiritual dowsers who can't pass a pendy test to save their life, but are spot on when opening to Light assistance from a loving heart.

TAKING ACTION ON PENDULUM GUIDANCE

I would say that one of the main reasons pendulists have such a difficult time with their pendulums is because they do not trust the answers that come. Therefore, they do not act. I can't begin to tell people how counter productive this is to growing your intuition using this tool, or any other. At some point, you will need to throw your hands in the air and free fall into the arms of the Angels who love you. How do you know it's the Angels guiding you? You don't in most cases, as you begin this adventure. But, you will have a sense about it if you are living a life dedicated to spiritual growth. This sense is what matters.

If you receive guidance that encourages you to kill your boss in order that you may have a cozier life, then this is likely not high light guidance. ;-) If the air in your room becomes blackish and the hair on your arms sings, it is not a good sign. (lil joke there)

In the beginning, guidance will come in as a little generalized, which has a tendency to rile people. Relax and breathe and don't expect hand engraved directions home. You might get messages like, "You are light. I love you. Be still and know that I am God." I have received this very message. It didn't work for me. I wanted some concrete answers to the Motha Of All Grim Death Grips I was experiencing, and that whole light-schmigh thing wasn't the answer. But, thanks for stopping by.

You might get a message like, "U bot flkng hike". This is not an unusual message. But, it's another tip topic. These come for a host of reasons.

You might get absolutely nothing that makes sense. Again, another tip topic.

You might get a strong swing for yes on an important question. Then, for whatever reason, you ask again. This time you get a no, and you immediately start your period. This is understandable. If you are a woman. This is the kind of thing that makes people go mad. Do you know the real cause of Road Rage? Pency BS.

It may take you a long while, as it did me, to accept that this is YOUR personal journey. Welcome to the biggest DO IT YOURSELFER in existence, called free will. There is lots of love, light and encouragement to get you through if you want it. This is miraculously useful if you allow it to be and recognize the value in this offering. But, if you think, "C'mon, give me something specific here!", you will be banging your head against a wall a long time. It's never good to lose blood in two places.

It's not that they don't have the specifics. They do. So do you on some level. The whole idea is to find and live on that level more and more often. How you do that is to start walkin'. The more you walk the more info you will begin to receive, not just through the pendulum, but through your tool-less intuition. The vibe that gets you there begins with trust and acting.

My suggestion to you is to be bold. Step up and proclaim that you are placing every ounce of faith in Source to guide you. This pendulum thing will be one of the tools you will use. Say it out loud. Then, take some steps that will show you are willing to follow the guidance you receive. Ask for protection. If you get it wrong, the blessing you asked for will kick in anyway. Your faith provides this.

As you free fall more and more, you will gain strength of spirit. It's called momentum and it's a groove you feel when you flow in the Rive of Light. Once you are flowing in this River, through trust in your guidance, and your willingness to free fall, you will hear the Angels as if they were sitting right next to you. It can't be helped. Santa's been eating their cookies for ions.

If you have sincerely prepared your space, and yourself, as you begin a pendy session, then you are automatically afforded protection, until the moment you begin to doubt.

The protection doesn't vanish, but your fearful perception of the moment shifts your energy. If doubt pops up, don't panic, just release it and call for light. Doubt is natural. Allow it, but let it go when you feel it. This requires awareness and discipline.

What is not love is fear, and nothing else.

LEARNING TO SENSE SUBTLE ENERGIES

If you are just starting to dowse, or work with energy for healing, you might not be adept at sensing subtle energy. This "sensing" can happen on all levels of your being. Some people may come naturally to it, others have to learn it.

It is important to be in a relaxed state and focused. Pay attention to all physical sensations and emotional urges as they come and go. Just observe. Pay close attention to the swing of the pendy. You may notice that the pendy has different swings with different energies. In truth, at the Highest Light level, all energy is equal in that we are nothing less than ONE perfect Love. There are no degrees and levels.

As you learn to sense subtle energy , you will learn to feel the Light without need of the words coming with it. For example: If you feel a little tinge of concern, or fear of any kind, based on your communication with whatever energy, then you are not centered. Your ego may be in control at this time. In some cases, a lower energy vibration may be coming to the table. Some people believe that they are one in the same.

As I have said before, surrender all unloving thought forms into the Light right away. The Light is present when you feel love, light, calm and knowing. It is a distinct feeling. Over time, you will feel confident in distinguishing between non beneficial energies (ego) from beneficial energies (Source).

If you are going to work with a pendulum on a regular basis, and use it as a tool for whatever reason, you will need to practice sensory awareness. You can practice every time you sit down to eat, take a walk, take a shower, or go to a movie. Pay more and more attention to the sights, sounds, smells and your feelings. As you do this, you will be programming your mind to awaken to the present moment. You will be less and less distracted by the chaotic energies that bombard our sensory system with each breath we take. These bombardments do tend to interfere with pendulum work. You will slowly learn how to stop, observe, and learn. This is a key disciplinary practice for those of you who wish to use this tool for healing and/or Guidance. This sounds easy to do, when in fact, it is quite difficult. As a society, we are on sensory overload. But, you can learn to quiet the mind, and pay attention to only what is right in front of you.

A very useful practice, and just a little something to do as you move along to help you grow.

Your task is not to seek for love, but merely to seek and find all of the barriers within yourself that you have built against it. It is not necessary to seek for what is true, but it is necessary to seek for what is false.

MY ONE NIGHTMARE PENDULUM STORY

for your reading pleasure...

I had been penduling on something one afternoon. At the time, I was going through a lot of hesitation about using the pendy. It was odd and I hid it from just about everyone. Additionally, I had become the Welcome Wagon for all discarnate spirits. That was fun to work through. I was an easy target. I was only so happy to help any one into the Light.

All they had to do was ask me to help them. It "felt" like I was doing humanity a huge service and my Ego LOVED this. I was all about light work. What a dummy. They showed up in droves. Take a number kind of thing. I thought I was being of service and repaying some debts. It was kind of scary in the beginning, but , thankfully, I had full trust in God. So, that's where I was vibe-ing during those early days.

On this one afternoon I received a message about my husband's uncle. The messaging seemed light enough in the first moments. I wasn't paying close enough attention.

Then very slowly, and without notice, the messaging turned a tiny bit. But, not in a way that would have alarmed me immediately. I continued on without asking , "Are you from the Light?" An energy then identified himself to me as Uncle Charlie. THAT was weird, because I did not know him well. He is my husbands uncle. This energy said that he had crossed over and needed to get a message to my husband's Mother to let her know. He said he needed closure and would I please help him. Well, did this "energy" have me pegged ? They must have been thinking, "Oh, there's that's stupid woman over there in Florida. She thinks she's here to save the world. She'll keep us entertained for the day." Remember I was new.

After receiving this message, my Ego said WHOOOPEEEEE, an opportunity! I can prove to myself and to my extended family that I am worthy and that my pendency work is a miracle. I just loved my shiny new mission in life. God is great, and I am Rockin'!

I just assumed the information was factual because it spoke to my Ego. It was such a pleasurable feeling, I didn't even think about it being untrue. It served some deep needs within me. How cruel.

The next few days we tried to call Uncle Charlie who is very old and lives alone. He wasn't answering his phone. AHAA! I knew it. It's really true. I called the police and told them they must get right over there and check on him.

I told Uncle Charlie I was on the case and not to worry. I have experience. Those spirits must have died twice laughing. I waited patiently by the phone for the police to call.

I was already framing my words for what I would tell my husband's mother, and how amazed they would be by all of it. OMG, it was pathetic indeed. Anyhow, the police went to the apartment and found Uncle Charlie cuddled up watching golf on TV. [gulp] I have never been more disappointed in my whole life that someone was not dead.

I immediately walked out the front door with my wretched pendency clutched tightly in my hand and marched half a block down my street to the bay and with all of my power threw the pendency over the top of several houses and into the bay. I said a few choice words and went back home. Can you imagine if anyone heard and saw me?

It can happen, but not because the Light is absent or the lost soul is capable of such a charade, but because my ego was seriously invested. That's all.

That was a very hard lesson for me as you can imagine. I didn't buy a new pendency for quite some time, and I ditched my charts in a drawer. I look back on it now, and realize it is a lesson we may all come to learn. I am grateful for it.

Moral: Check your ego at the door and surrender all lost energies to God.

Without a clear cut, positive goal, set at the outset, the situation just seems to happen, and makes no sense until it has already happened.

The value of deciding in advance what you want to happen is simply that you will perceive the situation as a means to make it happen. You will therefore make every effort to overlook what interferes with the accomplishment of your objective and concentrate on everything that helps you meet it.

105 ADDITIONAL PENDULUM TIPS FOR YOUR JOURNEY CAN BE FOUND AT THE PENDULUM FORUM.

Please join us and learn more.

20 TIPS TO ROMANCE YOUR PENDY

- 1) Buy a pendency with a string attached.
- 2) Pull the string
- 3) Is it talking? Does it say, "I wuv u disssss much!"
- 4) If not, soak your pendency in your own saliva for 3 days.
- 5) Pull the string again.
- 6) If pendency is silent, hang pendency in your undies in a full moon.
- 7) Pull the string again.
- 8) And again.
- 9) Hold the pendency over a swimming pool....deep end.
- 10) Say " You cannot swim Pendency Dear!"
- 11) Pull the string one last time.
- 12) Do NOT throw the pendency in the pool. It will sink.
- 13) Take your pendency for ice cream. Double scoop, waffle cone with sprinkles.
- 14) Tell the pendency how brilliant he/she is.
- 15) Pull the string one last time.
- 16) Buy Pendency a keg of imported. Drink until midnight.
- 17) Pour your heart out to her. Cry real tears. Say sad things.
- 18) Pull that damn string one more time!!
- 19) She's talking now isn't she :-) EXCELLENT !!!!
- 20) Bummer.....she's slurring her words.
